

Creating a YouTube channel will give you access to additional features and functions, such as uploading videos, making comments or creating playlists (where available).